Report on School Health Programme

On December 7, 2023, the NSS Unit and Community Health Nursing (CHN) Department of Amala College of Nursing collaboratively organized a School Health Programme at Mary Rani L.P. School, Amalanagar. The initiative aimed to prioritize the health and well-being of school children through health checkups and awareness activities.

The event commenced with a warm welcome by Ms. Agna Roy, a 4th-year B.Sc. Nursing student. Agna's welcome speech set the tone for the program, emphasizing the significance of school health initiatives in promoting the overall well-being of students.

Prof. Dr. Rajee Reghunath, Principal of Amala College of Nursing, delivered the inaugural address, highlighting the importance of school health programs in fostering a healthy learning environment. Dr. Reghunath emphasized the role of educational institutions in nurturing both academic and physical well-being.

Sr. Ally Therese, Headmistress of Mary Rani L.P. School, delivered the presidential address, expressing gratitude for the collaborative effort between the college and the school. She underscored the crucial role of health initiatives in shaping the future of the students.

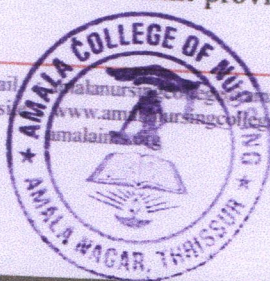

Dr. Sr. Merly John, Head of the Community Health Nursing Department, extended felicitations. Her words acknowledged the commitment of both institutions to community health and the value of preventive healthcare in a school setting.

The core activities of the School Health Programme included health checkups for the students, ensuring a comprehensive assessment of their well-being. Additionally, an awareness skit was presented, focusing on key health issues relevant to school-aged children, promoting healthy habits and preventive measures.

The event concluded with a vote of thanks by Ms. Daisy Jose, a 4th-year B.Sc. Nursing student. Daisy expressed gratitude to all attendees, organizers, and collaborators for their contributions to the success of the School Health Programme.

The School Health Programme organized by the NSS Unit and CHN Department of Amala College of Nursing exemplifies the commitment to promoting health and well-being within the school community. The collaboration between academic institutions and local schools serves as a model for fostering a culture of health consciousness among students. The health checkups and awareness skit provided valuable insights and guidance for students to adopt healthy lifestyles. This
